History of Judicial Council Of The National Bar Association

The Judicial Council was founded in Atlanta, GA in 1971 as a division of the National Bar Association. The Judicial Council is comprised of distinguished jurists and judicial officers throughout the United States and the Caribbean. The goals of the Judicial Council include: achieving judicial excellence, improving public confidence in our courts, protecting the administration of justice, and fashioning effective remedies for the legitimate grievances of the deprived, the depressed and the dehumanized in our society. In part, these goals are advanced through innovative educational programs, outreach efforts, personal commitment of individual judges, and collaboration with the NBA.
